FOR 60 YEARS.

FOR sixty years we have been manufacturing Sails, Tents, Flags and Covers. Our great success is undoubtedly due to our constant effort to produce the best possible goods at the lowest prices compatible with high quality.

Our name on a tent has always stood for full weight canvas, cut full size, and made in an honest, ship-shape fashion. It stands for exactly this to-day and will continue to do so as long as we remain in business.

The most particular and exacting buyer of Tents and Canvas goods anywhere is the United States Government, and we point with pride to our long and satisfactory record in supplying the government with Tents, Flags and Paulins, dating as far back as 1848. In the late war with Spain we made thousands of Tents without a single rejection, and we are to-day (January 12, 1899), running overtime on U. S. Army tents, which we are selling to the government at lower prices than they are able to obtain in any other market. This proves what we have always claimed; viz., that for standard Tents we are unquestionably headquarters.

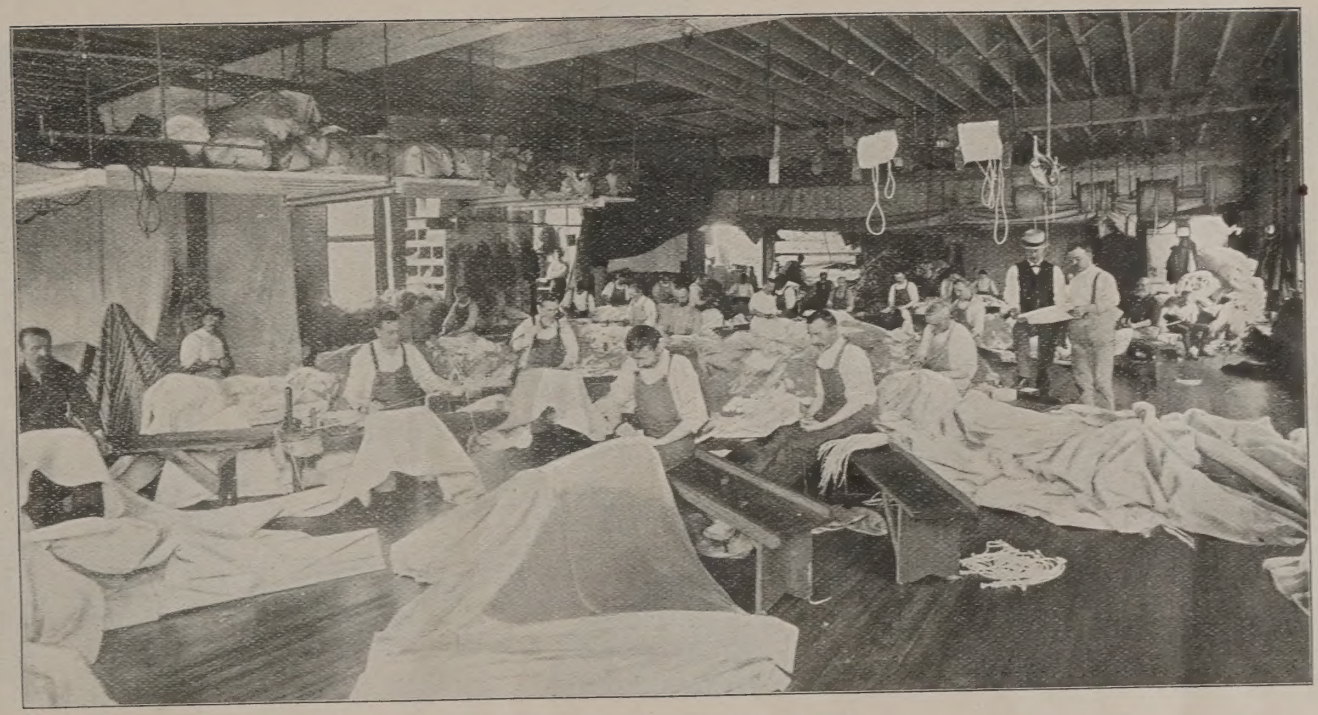
A Word about Cotton Duck.

Cotton Duck, such as is used in the manufacture of Tents, etc., can be divided into three general divisions, based on quality.

BEST — U. S. Army Standard Duck. 28½ inches wide, made in the following weights per lineal yard: 8 ounce, 10 ounce, 12 ounce and 15 ounce. Used for all government purposes, and the cleanest, closest, strongest and most durable duck possible to construct.

GOOD — Double Filling Duck. 29 inches wide, made in same weights as Army duck, but not of such good cotton nor so finely woven. This duck when made as ours is, is well suited for tents and covers where a first-class article at a moderate price is required. Excepting on government work we use more of this grade than any other.

FAIR — Single Filling Duck. 29 inches wide, made in 7 ounce, 8 ounce, 10 ounce, 12 ounce, per lineal yard. These goods are made of coarser yarns and of poorer cotton than the above grades. They are low priced, and make fairly satisfactory tents and covers where great durability to withstand hard usage is not the first essential. This is the grade on which many Department stores quote such very attractive prices, claiming that they are "Standard Army Goods."



A VIEW IN OUR MAIN SAIL LOFT.

In this loft nothing but handwork is done, such as sewing sails, finishing and roping tents, paulins, etc.

A VIEW IN ONE OF OUR MACHINE ROOMS.

Showing girls at work on Tents, Awnings, etc. The machines are of a special type made for our uses and are run entirely by power, the operators are kept very busy, however, merely handling the cloth, as these machines have a speed of 2,500 stitches to the minute.

PRICES.

The list prices in this catalogue are subject to a discount, which varies with the changes in the price of cotton duck. We shall be pleased at all times to quote our latest discounts promptly on application.

TERMS.

All bills are cash unless otherwise agreed on. Remittances should be made by Draft, Post-Office or Express Money Orders.

Do not send us checks on your local bank.

In ordering goods sent C. O. D. a deposit of 25 per cent. must accompany order to cover charges if goods are not taken.

Remitting in advance saves expense of return charges on money.

SHIPPING.

Explicit directions should be given both as regards destination and routing. If you wish us to ship by freight state by what Railroad, if by express, name of Express Co. After we take receipt from carrier, goods are at risk of parties ordering, and we are not responsible for any loss or damage that may occur.

No claims allowed unless made within five days after receipt of goods.

We make no charge for burlapping, boxing or carting; we take the greatest care, however, to have our goods properly packed.

Thanking our friends for their many favors in the past and hoping to merit a continuance of their patronage, we remain, Respectfully,

GEO. B. CARPENTER & CO.

REGULAR WALL TENTS.

These Tents are used more than any other for camping, and with the regular fly (extra roof) or with one extending over one or both ends, as shown in sketch in background, to form an awning, make ideal camping tents. The fly also forms an air chamber, which makes the interior much cooler in warm weather, and is also a great protection against storms.

CIRCUS CANVASES.

While these Tents are principally used for circuses, they are also in demand for political gatherings and outdoor conventions. We generally have several on hand for rent. Terms and sizes on application.

CIRCUS CANVASES.

These Tents are made in large sizes only—60 feet diameter and upward, with one or more middle pieces, to make them any desired length. They are furnished with quarter poles. Bands are placed at the top or ridge with quarter, rim and intermediate bands. Ropes are sewed in every two cloths, with ridge, quarter and rim ropes crossing them, making the strongest possible structure. The top is laced at each center pole, and at every third section. They are furnished with tackles, bail rings, center poles, side poles, stakes and all necessary guys.

DIRECTIONS FOR SETTING UP TENT.

The manner of setting up a Tent of this kind is as follows : For better guidance we give directions for setting up a 60 x 100-foot Tent.

First measure 100 feet on the ground and mark a distance of 30 feet from each end. Here either dig a small hole or drive a few stakes for a foothold for the center poles while they are being raised. Then drive three stakes for each center pole, and same number of stakes for each end piece of canvas, as per sketch, which we furnish with the Tent. Before raising center poles, insert bail rings from the bottom of pole and hook your tackle to the eye in center pole, then raise center poles and make fast the guy lines. The middle piece is then placed on the ground between the poles, and the end pieces brought up to it from each side. Next hook your tackle to bail ring and raise same a few feet from ground. Hook the head of canvas to bail ring and the middle piece to ends at the head. Lace canvas from both head and rim up to the long key, i. e., long rope. Hoist canvas, put up wall poles and guy them. Next put up quarter poles, then drive stakes for rim and guy the canvas.

There being such a large range in sizes of these Tents we do not list prices, but will be pleased to quote any size desired upon receipt of specifications.

Marquee's quoted upon application.

OBLONG ROUND END TENTS.

These Tents are used mostly for religious meetings, Chautauqua assemblies, or where a temporary covering is desired for meetings of any kind. They are roomy and will accommodate the maximum number of persons to the ground space occupied.

We generally have several of these Tents on hand for rent. Sizes and prices on application.

The Stable Tents are used by contractors and circusmen, and are complete portable barns. One double section, 12 feet, is allowed for six horses facing each other from opposite sides of the tent, the mangers being placed down the center of the tent, between the two rows of horses. Canvas mangers are furnished if desired, at an additional cost, or the common feed bag can be used for grain, the hay being placed on the ground. These Tents are easily set up, being provided with tackle for hauling the lines taut when the poles and canvas is up. An entrance is placed at right of each end, the covering of which forms an awning as shown in sketch.

RAIN PROOF HORSE AND WAGON COVERS.

Copyright, 1899, Geo. B. Carpenter & Co.

We use the best materials only in these covers. The oiled covers are treated with best pure linseed oil, thoroughly worked in and will not crack, as will covers which are coated with a mixture of cheap chemicals, which takes all the life and strength out of the duck. We guarantee our covers to be as represented, and first class in every respect. Our paraffined covers are treated with paraffine wax, in a manner which permeates the entire fabric, rendering it thoroughly waterproof. We can furnish cheaper horse covers, but we do not make them and cannot guarantee or recommend them.

ROLLER AWNINGS.

We call your attention to our Roller Awnings, which are especially adapted to large store fronts, because of their perfect fit and the ease with which they can be raised and lowered, and therefore protected from sudden storms. The increased cost of these awnings over the ordinary style is more than counterbalanced by the many advantages they possess.

We can furnish both the old chain attachments (Fey Pat. Cut No. 3) and also our new device (Cut Nos. 1 and 2) an improvement on the Fritsch Pat. Our improvement (patent applied for) lies in the fact that when the Awning is in position the entire hoisting apparatus can be removed (Cut No. 2) thus giving the store front a much neater appearance. There is an obvious advantage in the shaft over the chain roller, in that there is practically nothing to break or get out of order, and moreover an awning can be manipulated by it much more easily and quickly. For roller awnings fitted with the new device add $5.00 net extra.

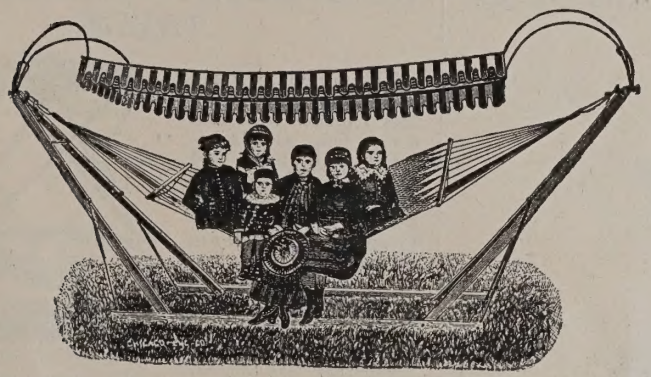
Solid Comfort Hammock Stands.



The necessity for suitable Hammock Supports is growing with the demand for hammocks.

It is seldom easy to find two trees the right distance apart, and in the desired place to stretch a hammock.

Of the several kinds of Hammock Supports now being made, the "Solid Comfort" is the best.

It is picturesque and handsome, and is easily moved from place to place. It requires no stakes in the lawn to prevent its turning over.

It has a stretch from end to end of fifteen feet, thus giving room to hang the largest hammock, allowing the full easy swing so necessary to comfort.

It is constructed of light, strong, well-seasoned wood, and so proportioned as to afford the springing motion which hammocks cannot give when hung from rigid supports or large trees. This feature is appreciated by invalids and ladies.

The canopy is supported by strong steel springs, secured in such a manner as to allow of its being tilted easily to shield the occupant from the sun at any hour of the day, and is sufficiently high to insure free circulation of air.

The support is very strong, and will safely bear any weight the largest hammock will sustain.

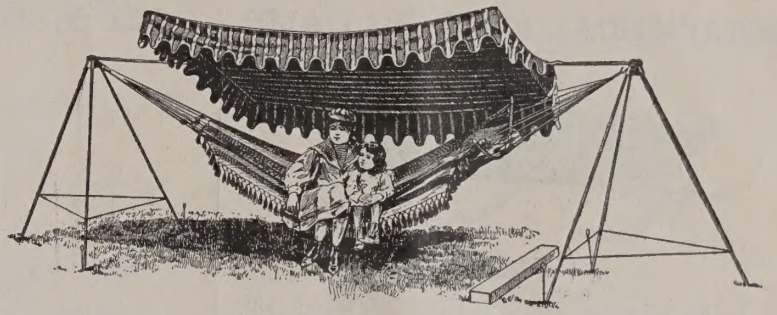
U. S. Hammock Stand and Canopy.



This Hammock Stand meets the demand for something neat, light, compact and portable, the frame of which will not be an eyesore if left on the lawn.

For camping out, trips to the country, for use at summer cottages and summer resorts, it is an indispensable luxury. Being light and small—5x5x68 inches boxed—it may be handily taken along in a carriage, or as baggage. It is needed at home if you have not good shade or a handy place to put up a hammock.

If stationary, the hammock will almost certainly be in the sun some part of the day Fastened to the trees it injures them, and, besides, the grass is soon worn away beneath the hammock, making an unsightly bare spot.

The frame is made low for many reasons. At first sight it may seem too low, but a trial will show it to be right. With this the canopy keeps the sun off all day, and may be adjusted so one cannot be seen from the street while in the hammock. It is the most convenient and handsome Hammock Stand yet produced.

Made of tubing, enameled in black.
Canopy made of good heavy ducking.
Will support safely 600 pounds.
Weight complete, boxed, 50 pounds.
Stand and canopy shipped in neatly painted hinged cover box, 5x5x68 inches.
May be set up in a moment by a child.
May be moved while set up by one person.
Canopy will keep sun off all day without moving stand.
May be set up in the house for children or invalids.
It is neat, handsome, and an ornament to a lawn.
May be set in different places to prevent grass being worn away under hammock.
Canopy and hammock may be taken in, and stand left out, as weather will not hurt it.
Anchor pins furnished to keep stand from blowing over, or being tipped over by children.
Handy to set the hammock out of a strong wind, or in a place to catch the breeze.

GOLD MEDAL FOLDING BATH TUB.

The above cut represents our Gold Medal Folding Bath Tub, which is the most complete and convenient portable bath tub ever invented. The frame is of hardwood, rock elm, nicely finished with filler and varnished, to which we have applied the principle of our patented metal joints, by means of which it folds easily and compactly. The frame thus constructed stands firmly on the floor and is kept in the same position no matter how much weight the tub contains. The cover of this tub consists of very heavy, closely woven duck, which is coated especially for us with thoroughly refined vulcanized rubber, cured and thus rendered tough and pliable. It is as easily cleaned as porcelain. The shape is well shown in our cut. It is very similar to the metallic tubs. It is not suspended, but rests on the floor about one foot in width the entire length of the tub. At the top it is about 5 feet long by 27 inches wide and is 16 inches deep. When folded, these tubs are 5 feet long by 5 inches square and weigh but 16 pounds. These tubs are recommended by all physicians and nurses to whom they have been shown. Guaranteed for two years, will last ten.

WILSON'S
KAMP KOMFORT TENT HEATER.

Size, 15½x12x15. 9 feet of pipe. Weight, 24 lbs.

In planning this stove we had in view the production of a heater that was strong and compact; that could be used as a container for necessary camp cooking utensils and table ware; that in use would be an effective heater in which the fire could be controlled to keep over night; that would be safe from causing accidental fires, either through coals falling out through openings in the stove, or from sparks thrown out from the pipe; that had no projections to get jammed out of shape in shipping; that could be locked.

In these aims we have exceeded our expectations, as the Kamp Komfort meets all the above-mentioned requirements.

It is made of 22 gauge sheet steel, reinforced with a wrought band 1¼x⅛ inch, riveted around the top. The lid is of 16 gauge steel, provided with a hasp which engages with a staple. Tinned malleable iron lifting handles are riveted upon both ends. The spark arrester is a very heavy perforated steel plate, one inch below the stove pipe opening, effectually closing it for transportation. A down shaft is provided by riveting a sheet of steel in the corner opposite the pipe, making a partition which extends downwardly to within about two inches of the bottom of the stove. The draft opening in the corner admits air to the down draft, the supply of which is regulated to a nicety by the damper. The pipe is made telescoping, 5 inches in diameter at the bottom, tapering to 3 inches at the top, and packs inside the heater, leaving a sufficient space in which to pack one of our Kamp Kook's Kits. The large pan in our Kamp Kook's Kit covers the large opening in the stove when lid is removed, so it is entirely practicable to cook on the heater. Food can be kept warm by placing it on one of the large pans turned upon the side, closing the open side or top of pan against one side of heater.

A party of campers supplied with a Kamp Kook's Kit and Kamp Komfort Tent Heater can enjoy an outing to the utmost.

Kamp Komfort, with pipe and tin collar.....$8.00

WILSON'S
KAMP KOMFORT HEATER WITH OVEN.

PATENTED SEPTEMBER 29, 1896.

Size, 23x16x13. Weight, 45 lbs.

This wrought iron range is made upon the same lines as the Tent Heater, and covered by the same patent, but is larger and provided with an oven and legs.

The oven is made by putting together the two parts, similar to Nos. 2 and 3, used with the Kamp Kook's Kit, and these are covered by a third pan, 16 inches long, 11 inches wide, 8 inches high. No. 3 fits into the opening in the top of the stove when the lid is removed; No. 2 is placed over this, and the larger pan over the whole. To prevent burning on the bottom, clean gravel, sand or ashes may be put in the oven to the thickness of about one inch; upon this set the pan containing the bread to be baked or meat to be roasted. Tin cover No. 4 fits either of the above-named pans when they are used for boiling, making soup, etc. The peculiarity of the oven is that the three parts of which it is composed may each be used for any desired purpose separately. When the lid is in place, cooking is done upon the top of the stove as upon any range. The legs of wrought-iron make the whole when set up 20 inches high. All pieces, including legs, and nine feet of telescoping pipe, are packed inside, leaving ample room to pack all the articles referred to as making up the complete Kamp Kook's Kit of 54 pieces, excepting the Fire Jack, which is not required with this outfit.

The stove above described is pronounced by all practical people who have examined it as leaving nothing to be desired.

In weight of stock we have struck the average best combining durability and portability; if lighter, the stove might fail when most needed, and if stronger, it would be too heavy for a convenient pack.

THE PRIMUS STOVES.

Wickless, Blue Flame, Kerosene-Burning, Non-Explosive.

The features which make an oil-burning stove perfect are safety, simplicity, efficiency, economy, durability and cleanliness, all of which are more perfectly embodied in the Primus than in any other oil-burning apparatus made to-day.

SAFETY.—The Primus cannot explode, either by accident or mismanagement. The oil tank of the Primus cannot be filled while the stove is burning,—removing the cap to fill the tank extinguishes the flame instantly. The Primus may be turned completely over while burning. The Primus is of the utmost simplicity. The burner, the most vital part, consists of but two practically indestructible parts. It has no wick, and therefore the combustion is perfect. It will burn any grade kerosene, and the flame can be regulated at will. The Primus develops a heat of 2100° Fahrenheit It will burn at its full heat for five consecutive hours upon a consumption of only one quart of kerosene; in other words, one-fifth quart per hour, at a cost of less than one cent. Nothing but solid brass is used in the construction of the Primus. It is made to stand the wear and tear of a lifetime. The flame produced by the Primus is smokeless, therefore no soot is deposited on the cooking utensils.

The Primus burns every day kerosene, without a wick, with a clear, blue, smokeless and sootless flame.

No. 101 PRIMUS COOKING STOVE.

Height, 9½ inches; diameter of top, 9 inches. The cut shows the smallest and most popular of the Primus Cooking Stoves. Its great popularity is due to its compactness and efficiency. Though small, this stove is capable of more work than any other one-burner apparatus now in the market. Used in conjunction with our Three-Hole Extension Top Stand, illustrated above, it will fully meet the requirements of a medium-sized family.

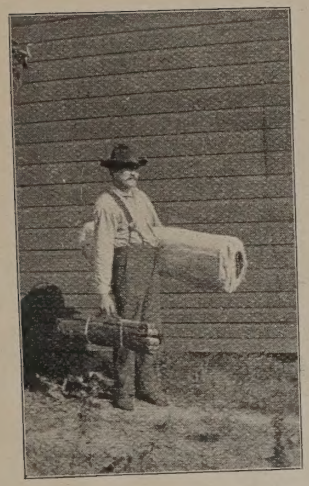
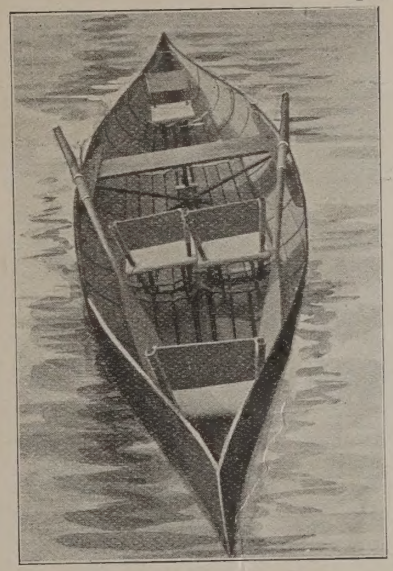
THE KING FOLDING CANVAS BOAT.

Strong, Portable, Light.



SHOWING BOAT FOLDED, ALSO CAMP BED.



These boats are all ribbed longitudinally and diagonally with light galvanized steel, twelve longitudinal and thirteen diagonal ribs, the longitudinal ribbing is sewed in pockets on the inside of skin or hull and is not removed, but folds up with the boat, always in place. A light wood keel is used which rests on the cross ribs, and shuts up like a knife when folded, the bottom boards also rest on the cross ribs, so that any weight placed in the boat is supported by the frame, as in a wooden boat. When set up, they are as perfect in looks and strength as a wooden boat. The largest piece of canvas not ribbed being 3x11 inches—a feature found in no other canvas boat—other folding boats having but few ribs, and none longitudinally, are consequently weak in the frame, and the canvas is exposed to puncture.

THE CANVAS USED

is in one piece, without seams, the ends are double thick and when finished, a third thickness covers the ends and bottom to prevent wear to the hull in hauling on banks shoals, etc. The canvas is a special make of hard woven duck, which is watertight before waterproofing and puncture proof. This duck is thoroughly filled with a preservative as well as waterproofer, preventing mildew and keeping it soft and pliable always, the only kind which will stand salt water and a hot climate. We furnish with every boat a repair outfit, so that if by any possibility a cut should be made in the canvas it can be quickly repaired anywhere. We can furnish air cushions, but these are not necessary and are expensive. We advise the use of cork life-preservers when women or children are taken in exposed waters or rapid rivers by inexperienced persons. This is not more necessary with this boat than others. It is simply advisable to be careful and prepared for emergencies. These boats have been used and highly recommended by such men as Lieut. Schwatka, the explorer, Captain Paul Boynton and others. There is nothing better made.
